

Laboratory of information technology

The laboratory has been organized in 2007. The laboratory carries out scientific researches, and solves practical problems in the field of new information technology and their application in the meat industry.

Lines of activity:

- Methodical and the appliance-software, methods of an estimation of quality of raw materials developed at institute and foodstuff, a databank of structure and properties of raw materials and components for manufacture of meat products;
- Maintenance of industrial and administrative activity of the enterprises of the meat industry program and hardware;
- Consultations and rendering assistance in use of information technology;
- Creation and development of a uniform information network of institute.

Contacts:

The laboratory chief: Alexander Eder, candidate of technical sciences

Ph.: +7(495) 676-9214

e-mail: it@vniimp.ru

The engineer: Alexander Kruglov

e-mail: kruglov@vniimp.ru

The engineer: Ivan Kostjura

The Programming engineer: Egor Sus

- Activities

- Publications